

Banmi Shofu Ryu of Ikebana

Guidelines for Contributors of Materials for Publication in Banmi Shofu News

Your electronic or hard copy signature in the consent form:

1. Indicates agreement with the vision and mission of Banmi Shofu Ryu, which is to preserve, grow, teach and communicate the Ikebana legacy of its 1st generation Headmaster, Bessie Yoneko Ibrao Banmi Fooks in alignment with the motto, "Friendship across the globe through flowers & driftwood;"
2. Gives permission to Banmi Shofu News quarterly to feature your written image contribution in one of its selected quarterly issues;
3. Provides release to publish original photographic images, if appropriate;
4. Attests that your written/photographic material is original, and not written by someone else;
5. Cites appropriate references if using information written by other authors in published or personally communicated information in the following sequence, much like the American Psychological Association (APA) style:

Name (last name, first name initial, middle name initial if given), (Year written or Date accessed if Internet or Personal Communication), Title of Reference, Name of Publication Source, City of Publication Source, Volume #, Page.
6. Gives the Editorial Board permission to edit the submitted material to match the publication style of the quarterly;
7. Submitted written material that is no more than 250 words including title of no more than 11 words; longer manuscripts may be edited to fit space, or if needed, published in two editions;
8. Constitutes a contribution to Banmi Shofu tradition and legacy with no monetary or favor remuneration whatsoever.
